

Stewards of the Coast and Redwoods Annual Report 2015

1985 to 2015 ~ 30 Years of Achievements

Our California State Parks offer life-changing first-time experiences: School children gazing upwards into the canopy of a redwood tree, mesmerized by its grandeur. Elated park visitors astounded to see a whale breach at Bodega Head. Docents delighting in the wonder in the eyes of children as they are introduced to the ocean, to exploring the intertidal and holding a bat star.

From our Seal Watch beginnings 30 years ago, the support of volunteers, members and donors of Stewards of the Coast and Redwoods (Stewards) has been vital to ensuring that we serve as an innovative force in providing education about, and protection for the natural and cultural resource treasures in Russian River area State Parks. It has been an honor for our board and staff to join with you in guiding and inspiring Stewards on a phenomenal journey that has brought us to support 23 volunteer programs at Armstrong Redwoods State Natural Reserve (SNR), Austin Creek State Recreation Area (SRA) and Sonoma Coast State Park. A recent addition has been Stewards' operation of Austin Creek SRA, slated for closure in 2012, where we are improving facilities and enhancing camping experiences for a new generation of visitors. I am pleased to report that 2015 was a year of significant accomplishment for Stewards. Our strategic partnerships have helped us become more resilient, while increasing our capacity to provide more engaging and relevant programs for all Californians, and to expand stewardship and operations to help our State Parks as they work towards transforming into a park system we can all be proud of.

Our new Mobile Marine Education van (Steward Ship) is delighting students who are learning about marine life through hands-on activities connecting their actions and choices to the health of the marine environment. Interactive adventures provide an opportunity to understand the interconnectedness of inland watersheds to the marine environment as students hike from the Willow Creek watershed to Shell Beach via the Pomo Trail. And participation in stewardship activities is fostering new environmental responsibility. The Dean Witter Foundation provided initial funding for this innovative project; partnerships with members of the Marine Protected Area Collaborative, including the Bodega Marine Lab and the Greater Farallones National Marine Sanctuary, are further boosting its impact.

Our Mission is to Promote, Restore and Protect Your State Parks

because of your Support!

Overnight camping programs are empowering children and families from diverse backgrounds to experience nature in new ways. Our second successful Latino Outdoors family campout (Campamento Familiar) provided 60 campers of all ages with tents, sleeping bags, an outdoor kitchen and naturalists to guide them through overnight activities, a hike to the coast, and an intertidal exploration. Pond Farm Pottery, located within Austin Creek SRA, was named to the National Register of Historic Places in 2014. Stewards is moving forward in partnership with State Parks, the California State Parks Foundation and the National Trust for Historic Preservation to implement vibrant programs for Pond Farm that honor Marguerite Wildenhain's legacy.

Our work with consultants funded by the California State Parks Foundation is helping to increase organizational capacity and sustainability in the areas of fundraising, board development, marketing and expansion of our earned income potential.

Thank you for all that you have done to support Stewards' work for our first 30 years. Your State Parks are magnificent places that inspire, teach and remind us that we must protect our local natural and cultural resources for the next seven generations. Your continued engagement is both welcome and needed along the way.

In Stewardship,

Michele Luna, Executive Director

Our Vision is to be the Link between People and their Parks

From the Forest

"The forest energy connected to me,
and soon I felt one in the family of trees."
~Student from Journey High School

to the Sea

"There are a few children in each group already interested in the natural world, but it's especially exciting to see someone become fascinated by the animals living in this special environment for the first time. Hopefully these memories are shaping tomorrow's stewards who will want to protect the ocean and our precious coastline for their children."

Volunteers are the Heart and Soul of our work!

"Last year knowing about the Black Oystercatcher nest and chicks at Bodega Head provided me with the knowledge to bring friends to witness this beautiful sight. It was the first time they looked through a spotting scope." ~ Diane Barth, Docent

"When I started working with the volunteer trail crew work I was a bit uneasy about taking away work that the park maintenance people were doing. I quickly found out that they barely had time to clean bathrooms and collect the trash and welcomed the "extra hands" that we provide."

~ Bill Bambrick, Volunteer Coordinator

Operating Your Parks

Park visitation has increased

	2014	2015
Armstrong Redwoods	798,969	1,128,332
Austin Creek	230,673	339,098
Camping at Austin Creek	7,984	11,396

The past three years of operating Austin Creek SRA and handling fee collection at Armstrong Redwoods SNR has been a rewarding experience. We are working closely with State Parks to make improvements and to serve the needs of a growing number of visitors who are discovering and enjoying these special places.

Making Parks Relevant

A young boy and girl are sitting on a large, colorful rock in a mountainous landscape. The boy is wearing a blue t-shirt, grey pants, and a white cap, and is waving. The girl is wearing a pink long-sleeved shirt and pink pants. The background shows rolling hills and mountains under a clear blue sky.

In unison with new initiatives by California State Parks, Stewards is striving to make park experiences more relevant to all users, including Latino groups, Tribal youth, those with special needs and in foster care.

In the past two years, our talented staff has offered overnight camping and stewardship opportunities with bilingual educational programming focused on the area's natural and cultural resources. Providing equipment, supplies and transportation scholarships has helped address barriers to participation.

Partners include Regional Parks, Latino Outdoors and the Bodega Marine Lab.

Collaborating Environmental Partnerships

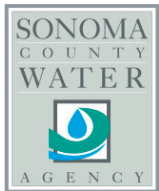

Stewards is honored to be an active participant in the efforts of these agencies and nonprofit organizations working with us to promote, restore and protect the natural and cultural resources in our State Parks.

Stewards is a founding member of the Sonoma MPA Collaborative, comprised of 30 agencies including scientific institutions, environmental NGOs, tribal governments, and agencies committed to raising awareness of Marine Protected Areas amongst coastal residents and visitors. We are producing a series of engaging video segments to educate a diverse audience of coastal users.

The goal of the Sonoma Environmental Education Collaborative (SEEC) is to increase environmental literacy in Sonoma County. SEEC identifies and addresses regional needs for environmental education, identifies gaps in existing resources and considers how existing resources can be leveraged to achieve common goals.

In 2007, Stewards launched the Pinniped Monitoring Program in partnership with the Sonoma County Water Agency. Citizen Scientists collect and provide data used by the National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS) to ensure that pinnipeds are safeguarded under the Marine Mammal Protection Act at the mouth of the Russian River.

Now that the National Marine Sanctuary System has been expanded into Sonoma Coast waters, Stewards is working closely with the Greater Farallones and Cordell Banks National Marine Sanctuaries to expand outreach and collaborate on programs and events that serve the general public and schools. Examples include Beach Watch, Long Term Monitoring Program and Experiential Training for Students (LiMPETS) and Day of the Child.

A partnership with the Bureau of Land Management, the California Coastal National Monument and the Seabird Protection Network has supported Stewards in creating a new Sonoma County Chapter of the Seabird Protection Network including Sea Ranch as well as three monitoring locations on the Sonoma Coast. Citizen Scientists collect data during the breeding and non-breeding seasons and report disturbances to seabirds to the Seabird Protection Network.

Pond Farm Pottery

The Legacy of Marguerite Wildenhain

2015 Initiatives

- Stabilize the historic barn and Marguerite Wildenhain's house in Austin Creek State Recreation Area.
- Develop a Training Manual for a Pond Farm Docent Tour Guide Program.
- Explore the possibility of an Artist in Residency Program at Pond Farm began.
- Raised funding for Pond Farm that included a successful Sunset Dinner.
- Collaborate with UC Davis' Humanities Institute and Public Scholars Program to fund an oral historian in 2016.
- Plan for a Pond Farmer Reunion in March 2016.

PARTNERS

Our partnership with California State Parks, the National Trust for Historic Preservation, and the California State Parks Foundation has netted many accomplishments since 2012 including the placement of Pond Farm on the National Registry of Historic Places at the National level of significance in 2014.

"Pond Farm – as a place, a history, and a crucible of ideas – is widely significant and compelling. The arts offer a path forward for Pond Farm's future use and as a model for struggling historic sites throughout California State Parks and across the country. Bringing artists to live and work at the site again can ensure the vision of Pond Farm is not lost, as well as provide dynamic engagement with park visitors and the broader community."
